

ZUMA shooters cover world events, strive to "tell a story"

© Steven Nehl/The Oregonian/ZUMA PRESS

The Hale-Bopp comet sinks into the northwestern horizon over Mount Hood, 40 miles east of Portland, Oregon. The photo will appear as a two-page, pull-out spread in the year-end issue of Life Magazine.

by James Aronovsky,
ZUMA Press Photographer

With more than 250 photographers located in every major city in the U.S. and the world, ZUMA Press credits have been seen on covers of Time, People and Newsweek regarding such diverse events as the JonBenét Ramsey murder case, strife in Bosnia and Haiti, the Heaven's Gate cult suicides and the murder of fashion designer Gianni Versace.

ZUMA Press is an international editorial assignment and stock photography agency, representing photographers in almost every state and around the globe. ZUMA Press, formed in 1993 by

© Jonathan Alcorn/ZUMA PRESS

ZUMA Photographer Jonathan Alcorn shot this photo of the Heaven's Gate cult suicides from a helicopter the morning the story broke. Photos of the tragedy ran over three pages in a March 1997 issue of Newsweek magazine.

Please see ZUMA, page 12